

Winnie's New Pet.

It was another rainy day at Winnie's black house. Winnie was sitting in her armchair moaning and groaning because she hadn't been able to fly for weeks. Wilbur was curled up on the beautiful furry rug snoring and dreaming of catching mice. Wilbur was getting old and beginning to just eat and sleep all day.

"What a lazy cat he has become!"

Winnie, was very lonely and miserable and nobody to keep her company.

"I need a new pet," Winnie thought.

Up she stood to fetch her enormous magic spell book.

"What type of pet would I like?" wondered Winnie. She decided she would like a pink and blue, fluffy hamster. She waved her magic wand in the air and said

"Abracadabra!"

Suddenly a pink and blue fluffy hamster landed on her head. Winnie was delighted with her new friend. The next day it was warm and sunny so she took her new friend on her broomstick with her but sadly the hamster soon fell off. Winnie was really upset and devastated. Winnie went back home.

"I need a pet that can hold on when we fly. I know what I need a MONKEY!"

Winnie enjoyed flying with her new monkey but he raided the fridge every night. Winnie was getting cross.

"He'll have to go!" thought Winnie.

Winnie turned her monkey into two beautiful red, blue and yellow parrots that she kept in a cage overnight. However, the problem was they never stopped chatting so Winnie got a headache.

"These need to go, my head is aching like crazy!"

Then Winnie had a long think about what pet she could have next. She found a brand-new spell for a small, cute, cuddly and fluffy dog. She would need to find a spell for a doggy seat belt so he wouldn't fall off her broomstick.

When Winnie made her dog, it was very cute and just then Wilbur woke up and put it's claws out but the dog just sat there, so Wilbur decided to give him one last chance and soon they became friends forever and ever.

By Scott Hipwell