

Example of an imaginative dream:

A boy is playing a game by himself in his bedroom. He is sitting on his bed pretending it is an aeroplane. Then, all of a sudden the bed starts to shake, smoke comes out from underneath it and it starts to lift up off of the floor. Next, the roof of his house opens up and the boy and his bed go flying off into the sky. He is flying over the trees and over the houses when a parrot lands on the end of the bed. The parrot takes him to the jungle where they land the flying bed and go walking off to find some animals. After ten minutes, the boy comes face to face with a huge lion who is roaring loudly and showing his sharp teeth. The boy freezes and hopes the parrot will come to save him. The lion keeps on roaring but the boy is starting to wake up. When he opens his eyes he sees his mum standing next to his bed, roaring at him to wake up because he is late for school!
