

Think about how you would travel to a Space Station. Design your own rocket. Will you need rocket boosters to make sure you arrive? What markings will you put on your rocket? How will we know that you are inside?